

Mini Bio for Trinelise Væring

Copenhagen based singer & songwriter Trinelise Væring works in the borderland between indie pop, jazz, folk and roots music. She is a distinctive voice and a unique songwriter on the Scandinavian music scene. Through her musical journey she has gone from being a leading Scandinavian jazz diva to a much-acclaimed singer and songwriter.

In the words of the newspaper Information's rock critic Klaus Lynggaard Væring is, "one of our most fascinating and daring female artists in music". Kim Skotte from the newspaper Politiken calls her, "one of the most persistently personal songwriters".

Væring has released seven critically acclaimed albums in her own name, the most recent being "Du går ind ad en dør" (2018)

As -writer & co-bandleader she has released another 6 albums, including "Oh Purity" an award-winning collaboration from 2014 with the internationally revered Norwegian baroque ensemble Barokksolistene. The recording of the "Oh Purity" album was also the focus of a documentary "Oh Purity in Watching Landscapes" made for the national Danish television DR which aired all over Scandinavia.

Along with her musical soulmate Fredrik Lundin in 2022 she released the self titled Tone of Voice Orchestra album to raving international reviews. The album won a Danish Music Award (Jazz-vocal-album of the Year) as well as 3 nominations in roots categories, a.o. Roots composer of the Year.

Through the years Vaering has played festivals og clubs with many different ensembles, from duos and small-groups to bigbands and large chamber orchestras with concerts in Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Germany, Belgium, France, Scotland, Polen, Lithuania, Hong Kong & Australia.

In recent years with her own bands and her repertoire in Danish, she has primarily played in Denmark, whereas with her bands Offpiste Gurus and Tone of Voice Orchestra she has been active outside of Denmark.

Væring also works as a music critic and writer for GAFFA Magazine, POV-International. She teaches and makes podcasts about songwriting.

For more on Trinelise Væring please visit: <https://vaering.com/>